

Gown Lines

Gown lines have been placed on the floors of our isolation rooms. It had been documented that patients who carry resistant organisms can deposit them on anything in their environment that he/she might touch. These lines act as a reminder and provide a clear signal to staff that a gown is necessary beyond that line; whether giving direct patient care, hanging an IV or changing the bed linens.